

October 1, 2021

DAILY MOM

HOME FOOD N' RECIPES

25 Luscious Fall Foods You're Sure To Adore

The moment September 22 drops, everything seems to have adopted an amber-colored glow, the cool wind whips through our hair, and through the woven scarves and oversized sweaters, we reach for our pumpkin-spiced anything to celebrate the initiation of fall and all things fall foods. Fall is an entire vibe wrapped up in a cozy season of falling leaves, crackling fires, and warm sunsets, and including some new flavors in your selection of fall foods not only enhances your entire fall experience, but it also changes the whole game.

READ MORE: 10 GREAT FALL PLANTS TO SPICE UP YOUR GARDEN

Fall is when children return to school, clothes get cozier, football games get serious, and our beverages move from iced to hot. Everything includes opportunities to get creative with your fall foods. Daily Mom has put together some new and exciting items you simply must try, along with some of the tried-and-true favorites that never let us down. Keep scrolling to discover fall foods we just know you'll love.

REAL COOKIES

Real cookies, perfect for the family with gluten or dairy allergies, taste out of this world with crunchy edges and chewy centers. The Peanut Butter Chocolate Chip cookies taste like peanut butter chocolate candy. The Lemon Blueberry cookies taste like delicious homemade lemon meringue pie sprinkled with blueberries.

BUY HERE

And, the Chocolate Chip Cookies, well, they are quite yummy, too. Real cookies only use “real” ingredients. They are made without gluten, grains, dairy eggs, corn, soy, or refined white sugar. The vegan, paleo, kosher cookies are made with non-GMO ingredients like almond flour, coconut flour, maple syrup, vanilla, chocolate chips, and peanuts. Simply put, Real Cookies are really good.

BUY HERE