Sophisticated snacks

Morsels for the mature palate

USA TODAY NETWORK

There is no shortage of between-meal bites for kids. But these products are perfect for adults who want something savory or sweet.

Walton Wood Farm Products has coated peanuts with ranch for a tangy, salty snack. $7.75 at waltonwoodfarm.com.

Raaka uses single-origin Tanzanian cacao aged in bourbon casks to make a very adult chocolate bar. $5 for one bar at raakachocolate.com.

Gluten- and grain-free REAL Cookies come in chocolate chip, peanut butter chocolate chip and lemon blueberry flavors. $21 for six two-cookie packs at realcookiesco.com.

Gluten-free By the Way Bakery bills Mo Mix as an after-school snack for grownups with flavors like pecan chai and coconut almond. $23.85 for three at mornixmagic.com.

Barbara's jalapeño cheese puffs are made with real aged cheddar and blue cheese but no gluten. $35.88 for a 12-pack at amazon.com.

Pots & Co., a London-based company, has made a decadent single-serve dessert with clean ingredients, including Colombian cocoa. $4.99 at Costco.
